

LINCOLN BUSY CELEBRATING

Second Day's Exercises of the State University... Students Take an Active Part

Hundreds Unable to Gain Admission to the Lansing Theater... Insult to the Secretary of Agriculture in His Home Town

LINCOLN, Feb. 16.—(Special to The Bee)—For another day Lincoln has practically suspended business and devoted itself to the celebration of the quarto-centennial of the founding of the State University.

Long before the doors were opened the lobby of the theater was packed with those hundreds of students who were not fortunate enough to gain admission.

This afternoon the university buildings have been thronged with visitors, the museums and chemical laboratories being the two centers of attraction.

Not Enough Evidence

Judge Hopewell yesterday gave consideration to the charge that Juror Shotts had been too intimately associated with the defendant in the trial of the case of Hansen against Callahan began.

Yesterday upon the convening of the court Judge Hopewell and the jurors, together with a number of witnesses, gathered in the private room, where a thorough investigation was commenced and continued for several hours.

Discussing the matter to some extent, Judge Hopewell said that this was one of the most important matters that he had taken with reference to the charges against the juror and the evidence on no wrong had been discovered.

THE PRELUDE TO PNEUMONIA

IT STRIKES ITS VICTIMS WITHOUT ANY WARNING

SIGNS OF ITS COMING

Its Ravages Are Increasing, What Can Be Done to Stay Its Progress?

During the month of January just past the ravages from pneumonia have been appalling. In the city of New York alone the deaths from the dread disease number more than 600, and judging from recent telegraphic reports we doubt that the mortality has been correspondingly large in other parts of the country.

For reasons unknown to us, says the New York Sun in a recent editorial, the mortality from pneumonia has risen very greatly in modern times. Up to two years ago the average annual number of fatal cases of it was under 4,000, but in 1892 the number was 2,841, and last year 6,476.

A celebrated New York physician told the Tribune that pneumonia was a secondary disease, the exposure and cold being simply the agent which develops the disease, already dormant in the system, because the kidneys have been partially doing their duty.

The disease is very obstinate, and if the accompanying kidney disorder is very far advanced recovery is impossible, for the kidneys give out entirely and the patient is literally suffocated by water.

The only safeguard against pneumonia is to maintain a vigorous condition of the system, and thus prevent its attacks by using Warner's Safe Cure, which is the standard and most reliable remedy for the kidneys.

Warner's Safe Cure, which is the standard and most reliable remedy for the kidneys, is sold by all druggists.

EARLY SPRING 1894.

WATS ALWAYS TART

Yes! always taps the season—partly because an early rural demand is usually made upon our mail order department, and chiefly because we load the hat department to its utmost capacity, which requires early hustling in consequence.

We are not selfish enough to crowd out the making powder or patent medicine "fad," otherwise we would monopolize the whole of this sheet in order to describe all styles, shades and shapes we carry.
